November 30, 2004

The November 2004 LME Nickel Cash Average Price was above our Nickel Base price of $3.00/LB, so surcharges will again be in effect for the entire month of December 2004.

For illustration of how the Nickel surcharge is calculated, November's LME Nickel Cash Average Price was $6.3746/LB. This yields an 80% Nickel wire surcharge as follows:  $($6.3746 - $3.00) \times 1.15 \times 0.80 = $3.10$  per pound of coiled wire. The 15% adder is present to cover the transaction fees, contango charges, insurance and delivery of the nickel material. It is also to cover the losses of material that occur when melting known as "stack losses". Always confirm the price of nickel applied to your transaction when dealing in any product based on the price of nickel.
